

CANADIAN TREATY MUCH DISCUSSED

INTIMATION THAT LONDON AND
PARIS WILL SEEK SAME
PRIVILEGES AS CANADA IS TO GET.

CUMMINS HAS NEW PLAN

Would Increase the Materials Brought In Free Without Asking Canada to Make Any Further Concessions.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., April 7.—Intimations from London and Paris which continue to find way to the capital that England and Germany will ask tariff concessions from the United States, identical with those proposed in the reciprocity agreement with Canada, have yet failed to cause any great degree of alarm at the White House.

President Taft has made it plain in answer to all inquiries that our treaty obligations toward Canada do not extend to other nations. The president has already prepared an answer to those nations who are now making requests for tariff favors, under the "most favored nation" provision of our treaties.

It is not forth that under the reciprocity agreement that the United States makes tariff concessions only as Canada gives favors in return; that it is a bargain, a special agreement to give and take. Therefore, it is held, foreign nations cannot rightfully claim like treatment by virtue of their trade relations with the United States.

In this connection interest centers in the plans of Senator Cummins of Iowa who has announced that he will seek to amend the reciprocity agreement by putting various additional Canadian products on the free list, without asking like concessions from Canada.

Should additional concessions be given Canada, without compensating returns, the president believed that the United States would be open to claims for equal treatment from foreign nations.

"For this reason every effort will be made by the administration forces to block the Cummins amendment."

the date was set.

LEGISLATORS WILL TESTIFY IN CASE

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Springfield, Ill., April 7.—Asserting that the legislative bribery committee is determined to find out what men who voted for William Lorimer for alleged $100,000 "kickback," State Senator Helm, chairman of the commit-

BRYAN IN WARNING TO PROGRESSIVES

Eternal Vigilance is Necessary on Part of Democrats to Prevent Control of Wall Street.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Lincoln, Neb., April 7.—Eternal vigilance is necessary, declared W. J.
Bryan in a flat-faced editorial in his Commonwealth, in which he gives a sweeping warning to progressive democrats to be ever watchful on the towers to prevent the Wall Street interests from taking control of the government.

Interview With Taft.
Washington, April 7.—Bryan today had nearly an hour's talk with President Taft at the White House. He refused to say what subject was dis-

PEACE IMPOSSIBLE WHILE DIAZ REMAINS MEXICAN PRESIDENT

Is General Sentiment of Mexican Insurgents—Will Fight To the Finish.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
San Antonio, Texas, April 7.—Peace negotiations between the Mexican insurgents and the Diaz administration are more and more remote. This is the assertion of Juan Sanchez Azcona, representative of the insurgents in the United States who conferred with members of the local revolutionary Junta.

Following the conference it was announced that Francisco I. Madero will be advised that it is the opinion of all leaders this side of the Rio Grande that peace is impossible so long as Diaz remains the Mexican "throne."

"We will fight to the finish of the party or the overthrowment of Diaz," declared Azcona, invoking the sentiment of the Junta.

Madero, commanding the main division of the insurgents is now thought to be near Chihuahua city.

"We cannot trust Diaz and have therefore decided to drop all peace negotiations," continued Azcona. "We have no faith that any of the promises made by the dictator will be kept.
Aside from that, we are really in greater power now and should be the ones to receive peace proposals and not the ones to make them."

A message to Francisco I. Madero, Jr., will be signed by the following, all of whom have agreed that peace under existing conditions is impossible:

Juan Andres, Almondo Gable, Jose
Maria, Elmo Sanchez, Dr. Rafael Zepeda, Emilio Vazquez, Ernesto Fernandez,
Gustavo Fernandez, Dr. Vazquez
Gomez.

Mexico and Kill the Wounded
Insurrectos.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
New York, April 7.—A letter rehangers-on of the Mexican federal army. In brief, the letter alleges the wounded insurrectos following a battle. The letter was written by a

PATHFINDER CAR TO POSTPONE ITS TRIP

Bad Roads Will Prevent Chicago Autoists From Coming Here Tomorrow.

Bad roads and inclement weather have caused the men who are planning the great inter club race between the Chicago Automobile Association and the Janesville Automobile Club in June next, club, chairman, Barlow, Powell,

strenuous efforts to make the "con-

15th, as originally planned.

of Panama Without Consent of Congress.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., April 7.—Col.
Theodore Roosevelt's boast that he took Panama from Colombia without consulting congress while President of the United States, promises to cause the ex-president a little trouble, according to Representative Rainey (Dem., Ill.) who introduced in the House a resolution demanding the acquisition of Panama be made the subject of an investigation by the committee on foreign affairs.

"This resolution is no bomb," Rainey asserted. "We mean business. I can show that the acquisition of Panama was an outrage. I expect to prove that the $40,000,000 which the United States paid went to a very few select persons and not to the hundreds and thousands who have been believed to have received payment."
"I am confident that we will have Theodore Roosevelt himself here to testify. We will subpoena him. We will also want to hear from William Nelson Cromwell."

PERFECT PLANS TO GREET ROOSEVELT ON SATURDAY NEXT

Committee to Arrange For Reception of Ex-President Has Been Appointed and Plans For Meetings Proposed.

[SPECIAL TO THIS GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 7.—Speaker Ingram of the assembly and Gen. W. H.
Morris, president of the Senate, announced in their respective houses this morning the appointment of the joint committee to have charge of the arrangements for the reception of Col.
Theodore Roosevelt, who will be the guest of the legislature on Saturday, April 16.

The committee is headed by Lieut.
Gov. Thomas Morris and Speaker Ingram and the other members are:
Senators John S. Donald, Danne, A. W.
Sanborn, Ashland, and Martin. Lieut.
Gov. Morris and Assemblymen M. O'Connor, Waukesha; Gilbertson, Eau Claire; C. A. Harper, Dane; W. H.
Bell, Racine; Eric Stern, Milwaukee,
and A. J. Hovman, Marathon.

Assemblyman Hovman is a democrat, the rest are republicans. The socialists declined representation on the committee, not forgetting their example in the action of Mayor Seidel in refusing to welcome the colonel to Milwaukee last September, after Col. Roosevelt's attack on socialism in the Outlook last summer.

The first meeting of the committee will be held this afternoon, at which time they will telegraph Col. Roosevelt for an expression of his desires as to whether he will consent to make three speeches, as tentatively planned, or confine himself to one big meeting. Following the rules of legislative courtesy, it is planned that the first of the contemplated meetings—that in the assembly chamber, will be presided over by Lieut. Gov. Morris as president of the upper house; Gov.
McGovern will preside at the Saturday lunch club at noon, and speaker Ingram will preside at the great public meeting in the gymnasium at 1 o'clock.

Already the speaker is burdened with telegrams, letters and telephone calls, many from far distant points in the state, requesting reservations for the addresses. The joint committee will assume the duty of providing for all such, and it is expected that a record crowd from far and near will hear the colonel.

Col. Roosevelt will arrive over the Northwestern road from St. Paul at 7:00 a. m. and will be taken to the executive mansion for breakfast with Gov.
McGovern. His departure will be made in a special car for Chicago at 2:00 p.
m. and he will leave Chicago for New York at about 5:30 p. m. over the Pennsylvania lines.

The League of Progressive Editors of Wisconsin, which will hold a meeting in Madison on April 11, will remain over to attend the Roosevelt meeting, and will have reservations together at the gymnasium.

discuss plans for suppressing the opium traffic. At the suggestion of Great Britain a proposal will be made to include morphine and cocaine with opium in the prohibition to be en-

FEW NEW FACES ON NEW BOARD

INCOMPLETE RETURNS SHOW
ONLY FOUR CHANGES FOLLOW-ING TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS.

PAUL PROBABLE CHAIRMAN

Board of Canvassers in Session At Court House All Day But Returns Are Slow To Come In.

Although the returns from the different parts of the county are incomplete it is evident from the results of the elections in the several towns which have been heard from, that the personnel of the new county board will be the same as last year with only a few exceptions. The board of canvassers have been in session all day in the office of the county clerk and the fact that so many of the towns have not been heard from will probably mean that they will adjourn until the returns are more complete.

There remain but three places to hear from, towns of Johnston and Lima, and the village of Oxfordville. Last year Johnston sent Thos. Clark and John N. M. Glendon and the village of Oxfordville, G. Clementson. Of the thirty-seven remaining members, twenty of whom are from towns, three from villages, and the remainder from the cities, the incomplete returns show a change in only four instances. In the town of Porter, Thomas E. Ford was replaced by D. A. McCarthy. In the city of Edgerton, two out of the three supervisors were displaced. L. E. Gettle returns while Henry Ebbott will be replaced by Robert Bruhn and M. L. Paulson will succeed W. H. H. Johnson. The only change in Janesville is in the case of J. P. Hutchinson who will represent the second ward in place of M. P. Richardson.

As to the election of chairman it is generally conceded that by a compulsory vote J. A. Paul of Milton, will be elected to succeed himself. As he has had the chairmanship but one year and as it is customary to allow two years for every chairman this is practically certain.

It is thought that the meeting of the board will take place on the 18th of this month, but it is not certain as the time for calling the meeting will greatly depend upon the canvass of the vote and as no one can tell how long this will take it is impossible to determine when the new board will get together. The spring session this year promises to be of more than ordinary importance on account of the ruling school question and several other matters that must be settled at this meeting. The division of the board on the location of the county training school for teachers is looked forward to with a great deal of interest and a great many conjectures are to be heard on the outcome of their deliberations.

Following is a list of the new board with the exception of the two above named towns and one village from which no returns have been received:

NOT TO POSTPONE SATURDAY'S PLANS

Statement Made Relative to the Death of the Late Geo. D. Simpson by Industrial and Commercial Club.

The following statement was issued from the Industrial and Commercial club office this noon:

The death of Geo. D. Simpson has given a sobering turn to the Commercial Travelers' day celebration tomorrow, and many members of the Industrial and Commercial club have felt disposed to postpone the factory day and banquet, out of respect and honor for him. However, many of the guests who are to be in town tomorrow are men who are on the road two or three weeks or a month at a time, who have arranged their trips long in advance with the particular purpose of being able to be in Janesville tomorrow, and it hardly seems right to them to postpone the meetings without being able to give them longer notice.

Mr. Simpson was admired and respected by every business man of this city, and was one of the most enthusiastic, hard working members of the Industrial and Commercial club. As a member of the Publicity committee, he wrote many of the "booster" notices that are appearing in the daily papers. He was also a member of the special committee on street lighting that is trying to work out a plan to make Janesville's business section brighter at night. His heart was in the work of the club and we feel that it would be his wish, if he could now express himself, that Saturday's program should go on as planned. For these reasons it has been decided to have the factory day and banquet tomorrow, in honor of the United Commercial Travelers, as originally announced, and the banquet committee has asked Mr. Victor P. Richardson to say a few words in appreciation of Mr. Simpson at the dinner Saturday night.

SOCIAL EVENTS AT EDGERTON THURSDAY

Party for Miss Lea Greenwood—Inspection of Edgerton Chapter O. E. S.—Aged Resident Dead.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Edgerton, April 7.—One of the most pleasant social functions of the season in this city took place last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartzheim, the occasion being a surprise party on Miss Lea Greenwood, previous to her departure for California. A most joyous evening was spent and at the supper table where a most excellent four-course spread was participated in each of the fifteen lady guests present gave a toast.

At the close of the evening Miss Greenwood was presented with a neatly made pillow bearing the name "Edgerton" thereon which the young lady will take with her on her journey to the sunny south. Miss Greenwood, accompanied by Miss Emma Malpress and Mrs. Rosa Keller, will depart Monday next for California with the intention of remaining there for one year or more.

O. E. S. Inspection.
Edgerton Chapter No. 63, O. E. S.,

held a special meeting at Masonic hall last evening. Mrs. Rose Mead, worthy grand matron of the state of Wisconsin, inspected the exemplification of the ritualistic work. The Misses Hazel Conn and Gertrude Tahlund were initiated into the Chapter in due form.

Mrs. Mead spoke very encouragingly of the work done by the officers and all felt they had been greatly benefited by her corrections. Mrs. Mead corrected and advised in a very charming manner, making a lasting impression on the members of the order. Mrs. Jennie Dower, assistant grand matron, and Mrs. W. T. Talkman of Janesville were also guests of the Chapter for the evening dinner which was served at 6:30, and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

While in the city the sisters were guests of Mrs. Harry Ash. Mrs. Mead left this morning for her home in Plymouth, Wis.

Mrs. Hannah Sebell.
Mrs. Hannah Sebell, an aged resident of this city, died Thursday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Trellin, in the third ward. The deceased was born in Pomerania, Germany, January 20, 1830. Bereft of her husband she came to America with her daughter, Mrs. Trellin, eighteen years ago, and has since resided here, making her home with her daughter. For the past four years she has suffered with paralysis, which, with declining years, hastened her death.

Besides the first named two other daughters, Mrs. Albert Parach and Mrs. Albert Hohlitz, all of this city, mourn the loss of a kind and Christian mother. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the German Lutheran church, conducted by Rev. J. U. Spillman.

106 Members Have Already Joined the Skavlem Inaugural Piano Club

If You Want a Piano the Skavlem Piano Club offers you a great opportunity

It offers you a great opportunity in more ways than one. It saves you money to begin with. You can actually save $97.50, as you get a $375 piano for $277.50

You get advantages of wonderfully easy payments; only 5 dollars when you join—then 1 dollar and 25 cents a week.

But you get more than these. You get the strongest guarantee ever given on a piano. You can get your money back at any time within 30 days. You get a life insurance feature that may mean the saving of the piano for your family. You get the privilege of selecting another piano at the end of the first year, and having every penny of your club payments transferred to your credit upon it.

The real value of this last privilege is hard to estimate. In the first place, if you have had in mind paying 400 to 450 dollars for a piano and the year's trial of our club piano proves it to be satisfactory, you are a big gainer; aren't you?

In the second place, if the year's trial of the club piano is not satisfactory, you can then get a 400 to 450 dollar piano without the loss of a penny—and it will be brand new instead of a year old, as you will have had the whole year's use of the club piano for nothing.

The Skavlem Inaugural Piano Club is four weeks old. It already has one hundred and six members and could easily have had ten more, or three-fifths its entire membership, if the pianos had been here to have supplied them.

Think of that in April with everything calm and still around us. And besides this, our regular business showing big increases over the same month's of last year (1910)

It may not be exactly the thing to do, to mention one's success in a public announcement like this. But in this instance we are willing to risk it to point to the axiom that "work will win."

This house believes in work. It was founded by work and is sustained by work.

Work coupled with integrity and high ideals and lofty purposes—that is what has won.

To be sure, sprinkled generously with this has been a certain amount of audacity. Not the sort of audacity that jumps into a thing blindly. But the sort that is born of belief in one's own power.

It took some of this sort of stuff to open a new Music Store in Janesville when business conditions were not the most enticing, to say the least.

It took a good deal more of the same thing to buy 200 pianos, all of a same grade, and organize a plan to dispose of them in from eight to ten weeks of the duller time of the year—when if left to inclination, one is much more likely to hunt the warm side of a quiet nook—and quit.

But no. We opened the store. We bought the 200 pianos—We organized the club. Almost three-fifths remain to be secured. Will you be one of them?

This club piano is a possibility at this low price because of our enormous business, that is easily larger than that of a half a dozen ordinary piano stores combined.

We carry a stock of instruments that is much larger than many other stores hereabouts.

If you ever intend buying a piano—do it today.

The Life Insurance Feature of Skavlem's Piano Club cannot be lightly passed

This estimable feature of the club cannot be mentioned too often. It means too much to so many. Shorn of all frills—the life insurance feature of the Skavlem piano club means, that the payments cease in event of a club member's death

That should a club member die before the piano is fully paid for, and his payments up to that time have been met regularly, all further payments are cancelled forthwith and a clear receipt and title to the piano is turned over to his family.

What this means to the man who is trying to give educational advantages to his family, yet is dependent upon a salary only, cannot be well over-estimated.

The Skavlem Piano Club Plan Told In a Few Brief Sentences.

1. The Club is to be composed of 200 members.
2. Three-fifths of the memberships have been taken.
3. The value of the Skavlem Club piano is $375.
4. The price to Skavlem Club members is $277.50.
5. The terms are $5.00 cash when you join, then $1.25 per week.
6. The piano will be delivered when you join, or later, as you wish.
7. The weekly payments of $1.25 begin when the piano is delivered.
8. Every instrument is guaranteed without reserve—for ten years, in a guarantee as strong as we know how to make it in writing.
9. If, after 30 days' trial, the piano is not satisfactory, we will give you your money back.
10. If the piano is satisfactory after 30 days' use, the club member has eleven more months in which to satisfy himself as to the character of the piano. If it does not then prove to be everything that he expects, he has the privilege of exchanging it without one penny's loss for any other instrument of equal or greater value that we sell—and we sell over thirty different representative makes.
11. If a club member dies during the life of his contract we will immediately send a receipt in full to his family for the instrument.
12. A beautiful stool to match the piano and latest style scarf included free.
13. The piano will be tuned twice without charge.

For the convenience of people who cannot come in during the day the store will be open every evening until 10 o'clock

RECIPROCITY FIRST.

With announcements that farmers throughout the country are opposing the passage of the Canadian reciprocity treaty, that "interests" object to the invasion of their chosen fields by Canadian goods it is not to be wondered that President Taft devoted his message to congress to this subject to the exclusion of all others. The message was short and businesslike. It did not apologize for calling the extra session, but merely explained the necessity for it, in fulfillment of international pledges. The President feels and says that he would not otherwise have considered that he was using his "utmost efforts" to complete his share of the bargain.

Nothing is calculated to do the democratic party more harm than an attempt to play fast and loose with the agreement. The bargain stands by itself and does not call for the raising of a single other question. It must be passed or rejected as it stands. It cannot be amended in any way whatever. Something "just as good" or "still more liberal" might be offered to Canada; but this would not be the reciprocity agreement, nor would such an offer be of the slightest value without the renewal of negotiations which have already consumed much valuable time.

To add anything to the agreement is a diplomatic impossibility. It is an agreement, and not a treaty. And it is a treaty, the United States senate under its constitutional powers could hold up or amend it almost indefinitely. Being an agreement, the senate must accept or reject. It cannot amend a single line without rendering the entire negotiations with Canada void. Every minute spent upon debating possible amendments, or anything but the value of the bargain as it stands is a criminal waste of public time.

No one will be deceived by pretenses that the agreement can be liberalized with a view to its extension to other countries. Doubtless our congressmen are not deeply versed in international law or diplomatic usage. Surely they, however, must know that any concession made to Canada over and above the agreement, to say nothing of any other country, would immediately evoke the "most favored nation" rule, and would have to be extended to all the world. Doubtless we want to revise our tariff with a view to freer imports, but this would mean handing the revision over to the rest of the world.

The democratic majority in congress has been wisely guided so far. The prompt passage of the reciprocity agreement will place it in a position of enormous strength to handle the rest of the program. Anything else will cast the gravest suspicion upon its good faith.

JANESVILLE'S LOSS.

With the death of Geo. D. Shapson Janesville has lost one of its leading citizens. A man who stood for the bigger and better community in which he had made his home. A man who was always ready to devote time and money to Janesville's best interests. His friends have lost an honest, sincere, councillor, his family, a loving son, brother and uncle. In the sad taking away of this young man, not yet in his prime, the whole city sorrow. His place can never be filled.

AN INVESTIGATION.

This dispute between Governor McGovern and former Governor Hoard will surely end in an investigation by the legislature. Members of the legislature are most anxious to probe certain matters that have come to their attention and it will sound well in future campaigns to talk of the value of economy. They do not consider what such an investigation would do to the university in the way of adverse advertising. Not only the university, but the state. However, anything for publicity and a chance to talk of reform.

MUSICAL TREATS.

Janesville music-lovers have been given a rare opportunity this past winter of enjoying the best in the musical world. The Apollo club has brought to Janesville some of the finest artists in their respective lines. The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra and the New York Symphony orchestra have appeared here, and now Schumann-Helck is to sing here. Janesville is certainly on the map in this respect this year.

TO BOGOTA?

Reports from Washington are that former Governor Davidson has been or is to be offered the position as minister to Bogota. As far as we can learn Bogota has no minister from the United States but is the station of a consul who now holds from Michigan. Why is Davidson to be sent to Bogota?

LORIMER AGAIN.

This time it is Senator La Follette who has started the Lorimer question in the United States senate. It looks now as though the tobacco slide was properly cracked and the "Blond Boss" would take a trip back to Chicago as a private citizen.

DIMPLE AT PANSY.

Dimple Andrews has been made postmistress at Pansy, Wisconsin. May Dimple smile at all the Pansy inhabitants and not read the postal cards before she distributes the mail.

The Lenten season is nearly over and the glad Easter time is soon to come. Meanwhile the spring sowing is being done and lots of other housework finished up in preparation for the hard bridge campaign that will come shortly.

The man who planned his garden in January, bought his seeds in February, lined out his garden patch in March, will find, perhaps, that April is not as friendly as it might be and decide May is the best time to plant after all.

The spirit of investigation of every line of public life is in the air and before the democrats get through with the extra session they will have to start investigating themselves if they keep on asking for new committees to be named.

Janesville stands to the fore in many lines. Just now the golfers are going to make the public take notice by the employment of a professional to teach them the fine points of the game.

Mr. Hines, who is mentioned in the Illinois bribery tale, is not the man with the "57" varieties, but it is safe to say that he talked in fifty-seven or more different varieties of language when his name was mentioned by the investigating committee.

Chicago has discovered that the voting machine does good work in election. There are some citizens of Janesville who do not think so. They would prefer the old method which took until morning to make the count correct.

The sun has appeared again after several days of rain and snow. Perhaps April is really going to do something worth while after all.

So the Japanese "Hogey Man" had to pop up again. It is simply a rehash of the old story with a few new details.

New York lawyers complain of hard times. That is what they get for having shut Harry Thaw up in an insane asylum.

Judging from the lack of definite news in that quarter the army must be behaving itself down in Texas.

That Racine street bridge question has not yet been settled. What is the matter now?

PRESS COMMENT.

Beloit Free Press: Good democratic weather. For particular note Janesville and Chicago.

Two in the Same Place. Madison Journal: The long and the short of the election is that Chicago and Janesville both went democratic.

Absolute Quiet.

Milwaukee Sentinel: As usual the bystanders are being killed in Mexico. A soldier is shot occasionally to break the monotony.

Insuring Success.

Monroe Times: Explorer Mikkelson is reported lost in Greenland. This is the first found on the ladder for success on the lecture platform.

Height of Incongruity.

Racine News: Once more, what's in a name? In a single exchange we note that Rev. Dr. Tipple addressed a gathering of ministers, and Hon. H. H. Hooge at a temperance convention.

Fame and History.

Rockford Register-Gazette: There are probably a few men who can't remember the date of the discovery of America, but where is one who doesn't know the date of the opening game?

Harmless "Vic."

Shelbourn Journal: Victor Berger, it is announced, may pick his own place on the committee at Washington. As he is the only socialist in congress, the democrats feel perfectly safe in allowing him to go anywhere.

Nautical Surgery.

Wauwatosa Record-Herald: The Mayo Brothers of Rochester, Minnesota, contemplate having a hospital boat on the Mississippi river. Fighting the mosquitoes will give the patients plenty of exercise.

Need For Stone Pile.

Rockford Republic: It is getting to be quite the thing for convicts and jail birds to refuse liberty when it is offered. It appears easier to come to terms with remorse than to make with a spade.

What Can They Mean?

Itasca Journal: The state should have a uniform weight and measure law. A university professor says half the measuring utensils in the state are wrong. But then other things don't always measure up to what they claim.

Painless Extraction.

Milwaukee Journal: Thousands of meetings held in England to favor the subject arbitration treaty with the United States. In this country, however, Uncle Sam is his money for war by dumping into the tax payer's pocket by the wily tariff, by which the vigilant citizen never knows when he is being robbed.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)
By WALT MASON.

A little while we'll put up grass, and feel along the garden rows, and all with sighs the summer air, and grow about the girls we love.

A LITTLE WHILE

And when life's day is waning, and old, and evening draws in, gray and cold, we'll backward look through mists of tears to all those toiling, plodding years, and to our ancient eyes they'll seem as golden as a summer dream. A little while our friends we'll meet in daily walks upon the street; and we, intent upon our chores, will say that friends are often horses. And when life's little day's near close, and we behold the sinking sun, and evening winds are drear and cold, we'll think about the friends of old and wish they might come back once more, from out the shadows of death's gloom. A little while we'll tell and share some more schemes to save a little while we'll scheme and plan to get the best of father man. And when life's little day is old we'll look back on the search for gold, and murmur, with a doleful sigh: "We—the best of life to be!"

Heart to Heart

Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

CYNTHIA WESTOVER ALDEN.

There was a girl in New York named Rachel. When fifteen months old Rachel went blind because of an attack of measles which was not properly looked after. Her parents were poor, and the city took charge of the blind baby, sending her to Randall's Island.

They said the girl was idiotic. And along with seventy-two other blind babies, nearly all of whom were catalogued as weak-minded, Rachel had a place. But—

There was a woman.

Her name? Cynthia Westover Alden, founder of the International Sunshine Society.

Although she was no doctor, Mrs. Alden got the notion into her head that Rachel was not idiotic.

She got permission to take the blind little girl away.

And then Mrs. Alden provided who teachers for Rachel, who sought always to wake up her mind.

You see, Rachel, being blind, had never exercised her muscles very much. She was usually tied in a chair lest she hurt herself. And she had never used her senses more than necessary.

It was slow work at first, but Mrs. Alden persevered.

That was seven years ago.

You should see Rachel now. She plays the piano beautifully. She reads everything she can get her fingers on. She converses intelligently. In short, she is as bright a blind girl as you could wish to know.

And since that time the Sunshine society has taken eighty-two blind babies from the institution, only one of whom turned out to be an idiot.

Think of it!

For years those blind babies had been considered idiots merely because nobody took the trouble to find out.

And because nobody cared most of them grew up to be imbeciles.

You know the first chapter of John begins, "There was a man sent from God whose name was John."

Well, one of the first chapters of Mercy begins—

"There was a woman sent from God whose name was Alden."

WALSH IS RELEASED FROM COUNTY JAIL

Upon His Signing His Own Recognition to Appear for Trial Before Judge Grimm at Jury Term.

Daniel Walsh, held for the past five weeks in the county jail awaiting trial in the circuit court on a charge of aiding in the burglarizing of the saloon of Thomas Slegel on the night of February 25, was released this morning, pending his appearance at the opening of the next jury term of the above court. The action was taken by Judge Grimm at Monroe yesterday afternoon upon the application of the defendant's attorney, Thomas Nolan, who went there for that purpose.

Walsh was arraigned in the municipal court here February 27, and his trial was set for March 20. At this time his counsel asked for a change of venue and by order of Judge Grimm the case was taken into the circuit court. Since that time he has been confined in the county jail. Yesterday, upon the agreement of his attorney and District Attorney Dunne, an appeal for Walsh's release was made and granted. His bail was reduced from $500 to $200 and he was released upon his signing his own recognition to appear at nine o'clock on the first day of the next jury term of the circuit court for trial.

PROGRAM FOR JOINT BANQUET ANNOUNCED

Myers Hotel Will be Scene of Booster Banquet Saturday Night—Good Speeches and Program.

With an excellent program announced for the joint banquet of the Commercial Club and the United Travelers at the Myers Hotel Saturday night, and more manufacturers in the city continually expressing their willingness to be hosts to the visitors on that day, the success of "factory day" is assured. If there is not new inspiration for a bigger and better Janesville gained on this occasion it will not be the fault of those who have had the affair in charge.

No expense is being spared on the festivities of the evening and the event promises to be one of the biggest ever held in the city. Not only will it be marked by excellence in the culinary line, but the addresses and selections upon the program promise to be most entertaining and interesting.

Following is the program:—Address of Welcome, Allan P. Lovejoy; Response, Frank A. Spoon; Janesville, Its Recent Past and Its Future, Alexander E. Matheson; Solo, Mrs. Zora Pearl Parks, accompanied by Mrs. W. T. Shorner; How You Can Boost Janesville, Thomas H. Nolan; Original poem, Mrs. Chas. Hanson.

J. D. and E. G. Owen, manufacturers of light bulbs, have added their names to the list of those who will be open all day to receive visitors.

He leaves to mourn his death a widow and three children: Minnie J. of this city, Wm. B. of Evansville, and Harry S. of Minneapolis, also a sister, Mrs. Mary Lewis of Escanaba, Mich.

Funeral services will be held at the family residence, 403 Chatham street, Monday morning at ten o'clock. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

STOUGHTON NO PLACE FOR HIM TO GET INTOXICATED.

So Martin Howland, Farmer, Living Near That City, Comes to Janesville to "Liquor Up."

One solitary drunk comprised the work of the morning in municipal court today. Martin Howland, a farmer living near Stoughton, as a result of the recent election, found he could not break the inner drought in that city although the atmosphere was filled with moisture, so sought Janesville as the best place to drench the arid spots in his oesophagus. He completed the task most thoroughly but got into complications with the police and was brought into court.

He pleaded guilty to the charge of a fine of $4 and costs, $5 or eight days in jail. Howland's house shook so he could hardly hold the money but he produced the necessary coin.

BOWLERS GATHERED AT BANQUET BOARD

Third Annual Event At Caledonian Rooms Last Night Was Fitting Close To Successful Season.

Forty members of the Janesville Bowling League, were present at the third annual banquet which was held last evening in the Caledonian club rooms. At eight o'clock the members gathered about the banquet tables and a dinner excellent in every appointment was served.

CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM IN CITY BOWLING LEAGUE THIS SEASON—THE BUTTERNUTS.

It was ten o'clock when the tables were cleared and the speeches of the evening were in order. The captain of the various teams composed the list of speakers and George Helms, leader of the champion Butternuts, was called upon for the first remarks. The keynote of all the talks was the success of the past season, the interest which had been generally manifested, and the loyalty of the members to their team as well as to the league. This spirit of good-fellowship has attributed to the success of the season, and aside from the pleasure, exercise and skill derived, was one of the important assets.

After Mr. Helms the other captains followed, including Al Griley, John Gault, "the South-paw", Milton Cook and Orville Osborn. Robert Hockett, owner of the alley, to whose efforts and enthusiasm much credit is due, spoke briefly in appreciation of the members and their records for the season, and outlined plans for the future of the league. It was his intention, he said, to have the alleys repaired and put in first class shape, and an expert from Milwaukee will be here shortly to make an estimate on the work.

Dr. G. B. Thayer, official scorekeeper, gave a short humorous talk, and Clarence Sutherland, Dr. F. G. Wolcott, George A. Parker and John Harlow gave short remarks.

The teams winning first, second and third places were awarded prizes consisting of boxes of cigars with a photograph of the team in addition to the Butternuts, winners of the first place. Prizes were also given to Cook and Osborn who tallied high scores, 245 and 235 respectively. It was also planned to form two leagues for the coming season, one with a series of games before Christmas and the other after the Christmas holidays.

Wisconsin Whist League Congress. Onkosh, Wis., April 7.—Tournament play in the twelfth semi-annual congress of the Northern Wisconsin Whist League began at the Century Club in this city today and will continue over tomorrow. The league is composed of clubs in Milwaukee, Marinette, Appleton, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Oconto and a number of other cities. The two special events are the contests for the "Pinner" trophy, donated by the Wisconsin Whist Club, and the Mrs. J. C. Thompson trophy.

Athletic Meet In Cream City. Milwaukee, Wis., April 7.—Soldiers have over an athletic meet in Milwaukee brought together such a large number of star performers as those who will compete here tomorrow in the annual indoor meet of the Amateur Athletic Federation of Wisconsin. Fifteen events will be decided and in each of them the best amateur athletes representing Wisconsin colleges and clubs will compete.

Fights Scheduled For Tonight. Packey McFarland vs. Morris Bloom, 10 rounds, at Kenosha, Wis.

THEATERS

Damon Is Coming.
When Damon's Colored Musical Comedy Co., under management of John Connors, comes to the Myers Theatre, Saturday, April 8, matinee and evening, the theatre-goers of our city will be treated to a performance, the merit of which is well known to the theatre-going public. This is the same company, enlarged and strengthened, that has appeared nightly during the past several seasons in the leading cities of the country, and includes Prof. A. M. Damon, the world's greatest colored violinist, Miss Nellie Damon, prima donna soprano, justly termed the "Whimsical Song Bird," a bevy of sweet singing and attractive detouron girls from the very heart of Dixieland, besides an assemblage of balmy providing, side splitting, laugh producing comedians, the superior of which is contained in no company before the public today. To miss this entertainment will be a loss long to be regretted—see it will be a treat. They are to appear for one night only, and the performance should be well attended.

SCHUMANN-HEINK'S WONDERFUL CAREER.

In view of the coming appearance of Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink universally recognized as the greatest contralto of the day at Myers Theatre, April 25, it will no doubt interest many to read an account of the eminent singer's career.

Mme. Schumann-Heink, the most famous contralto of the times, is the daughter of an Austrian father and an Italian mother and was born in Lieben, Bohemia, Germany, and spent most of her life in Germany, but she herself has determined her nationality by building a picturesque villa among the New Jersey hills and by officially taking on the name of American citizenship. Thus Mme. Schumann-Heink could easily claim the title of the most cosmopolitan of the great singers.

Little Ernestine was sent at the age of ten, to the convent of the Ursuline nuns at Prague and here she sang in the choir, but entirely by ear. After a number of years of faithful and tireless effort, not without many disappointments and discouragements, this young aspirant began to see the dawn of a brighter day and then the history of the rise of the contralto to one of the triumphs of continually growing importance. She sang in opera in Hamburg, Berlin, and in 1886 at Bayreuth. By this time her fame became world wide and led to flattering engagements in London and America.

Mme. Schumann-Heink is admitted to be the best singer of the day. Of late she has devoted herself almost entirely to concert work, playing to crowded houses. In Dresden two years ago Schumann-Heink secured a most dazzling success in "Elektra" at its premier, and one paper in writing of this great event said "the audience rose from their over-wrought emotions and cringing nerves to whirlwinds of applause, and poems of praise."

European judges of music and the arts are usually more exacting than American critics, because they hear a greater array of first-class talent. For this reason the following words on Schumann-Heink from the pen of a prominent German writer carry great weight. Supported by her will power she has reached the highest pinnacle and now stands as the queen of modern vocal art. The great ones of the earth, the heads of the nations and the public of all countries offer her the highest tribute of admiration and she reigns supreme everywhere.

At the conclusion of her season in May Mme. Schumann-Heink will leave for Europe, where she is engaged for the Wagner festival at Bayreuth and Munich. She has also contracted for operatic appearances in the opera houses of Berlin, Brussels, Paris and London.

Schumann-Heink To Found Home For Aged Singers.

"I want to be useful to humanity, and so I intend on my death to leave enough money for the establishment of a home for elderly singers and actors. I have eight children, and, of course, am planning to leave them comfortably situated so they will not want. But after taking care of them I propose to set aside the remainder of whatever fortune I may have for the establishment of a home for superannuated singers and actors." This statement was made by Mme. Schumann-Heink the famous contralto whom Janesville will give a cordial welcome here at the Myers Theatre, April 25, under the direction of Clara Bowen Shepard.

The demand for seats is very great and many from the surrounding towns will come to hear this eminent artist. Coming just after the quiet Lenten season is over, it will be a great society as well as a musical event.

Smart Jimmy.
The boy who was asked to name the seven wonders of the world stumbled along until he had totaled six. There he stalled.
"Can any pupil add the seventh?" the teacher asked. "Perhaps you can, Jimmy?"
"If you please, sir," replied Jimmy. "I think it's the triple play unassisted!"

SURE OF HER.

"Would you permit your wife to wear a harem skirt?"

"Oh, yes, if she wished to wear one."

"I thought you had more respect for her than that."

"I have respect for her. That's why I say I would permit her to wear a harem skirt if she wished to do so. I am sure she would never put one on, if it is permissible to refer to a harem skirt as 'one.'"

"You never can tell."

"Oh, yes, I can. In this case I'm sure of her."

"Why do you feel so confident?"

"Well, I suppose I ought not to tell you, but I will. Don't let it go any further. My wife is bow-legged."

Generation Losing Use of Hands.

We learn through a French paper that we are in danger of losing the use of our hands. The assertion is made by a medical authority and a little reflection will lead us to pause before scolding this theory. Our hands, in effect, become less cunning and adroit through our availing ourselves of every mechanical appliance at our disposal. In times past women were skillful embroiderers and workers of lace, but the sewing machine has deteriorated the work of the hands and fingers, because in the case of the mercenary worker it renders a better return for her labor. By degrees the hands become stubborn, and in time, says the authority before cited, there will be nothing for the ten fingers to do.—London Globe.

If you are a good cook and we know you are, be sure to enter the Gazette Menu contest. Read the details on the women's page in this issue.

"Love Buttons" In Vogue.

When you see a man wearing a photograph button in his coat lapel you may be pretty sure that he is either engaged or married to the lady whose portrait adorns him. Instead of wearing an engagement ring it has become the fashion among certain classes of men to wear "love buttons."

Speech and Silence.

I have often regretted my speech, never my silence.—Publius Syrus.

Greece is said to be the poorest country of Europe. Her total wealth amounts to $1,000,000,000, or about half that of Switzerland.

Hands of Men and Women.

The average hand of the man is from one inch to an inch and three-quarters longer than the woman's average.

That Uneven Floor.

If you wish to cover your floor with linoleum and the boards are warped, fill the uneven places with sand and your linoleum will not become worn.

ACETYLENE

The Twentieth Century Light

A Cheap, Exceptionally Brilliant Light--More Economical Than Kerosene and Quite As Convenient As Electricity

In the fifteen years since it was first used as an illuminant its growth has been marvelous, and from a practically unknown illuminant it has taken its place as the leading light of the day.

Acetylene is produced by contact of Calcium Carbide with water.

Calcium Carbide is the chemical combination of coke and lime united by the intense heat of an electric furnace.

It is commercially known as carbide, and can be purchased anywhere.

Acetylene is made just as used automatically in machines arranged to bring carbide in contact with water.

These generators, so called, are small and require little room for installation. They can be set up in basement or cellar and the gas carried to all parts of the building through ordinary gas pipe.

Safety of Acetylene

Prof. G. G. Pond, Ph. D., of the State College, Pennsylvania, who is an eminent authority on Acetylene, states that "The use of Acetylene for illumination, provided it is generated from good carbide, in a first class apparatus, and all reasonable regulations followed, is no more fraught with danger at the present day, than any available method of illumination by gas and electricity, and less so than the usual employment of petroleum."

This expert and unbiased opinion sets at rest the question of the safety of Acetylene.

Acetylene Light is not only the best illuminant, but it is the most economical as well. Compare the cost:

Acetylene costs 2.5 of a cent per hour for each 25-candle power light.

Kerosene costs 1/2 cent per hour for each 25-candle power light.

City Gas costs 3/4 cents per hour for each 25-candle power light.

Electricity costs 1 cent per hour for each 25-candle power light.

In addition to its low cost Acetylene absolutely maintains its candle power and there is no flicker or variation in it.

Acetylene is conceded to be the most beautiful artificial light in existence.

The "Illinois" Carbide Feed Generator the Most Perfect Generator For Acetylene Production

The "Illinois" is constructed in the most workmanlike way of the highest grade galvanized sheet steel, double seamed or riveted and every machine is thoroughly tested before leaving the factory.

The "Illinois" is examined and tested by the Underwriters Laboratories, and is made in accordance with the requirements of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and is on their approved list and can be installed in buildings without affecting the insurance on the same.

Molsson, the distinguished French chemist, said in 1896, with reference to generators, as follows: "The ideal apparatus, which I think does not exist, consists of a gas holder containing an excess of water into which a fragment of carbide of known weight falls automatically at the desired moment. The weight of the carbide should be such that it will fill the gas holder with gas without producing an excess."

The "Illinois" Generator fulfills these requirements in every particular.

- It is conceded by all authorities that the best method of producing Acetylene is by a Carbide Feed Generator, and careful tests have proven conclusively that 1-4x1-12 inch Carbide yields the maximum amount of gas.

Acetylene is adapted to lighting under any and all conditions, in the most isolated as well as the most thickly settled locality. In city, town or village, on farm or ranch, on land or water, in fact everywhere

Acetylene is suitable for the smallest residence or the largest factory, for church, hotel or school, and wherever installed it will do the work quietly and automatically, furnishing light when you want it and do it better and more economically than can be accomplished by any other known illuminant.

Acetylene light has been truly called artificial sunlight because it is only rivalled by the sun's rays.

It is a soft, steady and diffusive light, as well as the cleanest and most healthful.

"Illinois" Generators Use 1-4x1-12 Inch Carbide

The safety and reliability of a generator depends upon the feeding mechanism. The "Illinois" generator is the perfection of simplicity and positiveness of its action.

It is governed in its feeding by the gasometer.

No valves are used as they are not reliable.

It feeds a fixed charge of carbide only when needed to replace in the gasometer the gas which has been consumed at the burners.

It can never overfeed or deliver more than a fixed charge as when the carbide fills the scoop, ready to feed, it closes the mouth of the hopper, and as the scoop drops the carbide, the hopper closes again automatically.

The feed device is constructed of the best grade of Galvanized Steel thoroughly re-inforced.

"Illinois" Generators, including the feed mechanism, are fully covered by patents.

If you are tired of bad and uncertain light and paying for something you never get, "Illinois" Acetylene will release you.

Do you long to be free from the labor and dirt of kerosene lamps, and to be able to light and cook with gas by simply turning a key, then install an

PASS ORDINANCE AS TO THEATRES

ORDINANCE WAS GIVEN THIRD READING AT SPECIAL SESSION OF COUNCIL LAST NIGHT.

PROTECTION IS ASSURED

Requirements Are That Extreme Precautionary Measures Must Be Taken to Prevent Fires or Danger of Loss of Life.

Janessville's new theatre ordinance, drawn up by the city attorney, and already given its first and second readings in the last regular meeting of the common council, was given its third reading last night, placed on passage by a unanimous vote of all aldermen present at the special session last evening. Eight members of the council were in attendance, Ald. Buchholz, who is at the hospital, and Ald. Evans, who was kept away by other business, being absent.

Alderman Brown was responsible for the passage of the ordinance. It had been discussed during the recess and it was thought best to leave the matter until the next regular meeting, but Alderman Brown, who was not aware of the committee's decision, arose, and spoke of the need of protection for the people in the theatre houses. His motion to give the ordinance its third reading and place it upon passage was unanimously adopted.

Some question arose as to whether the council might pass the ordinance at the special session without invalidating it. Mayor Carlo held that as the ordinance was not a revenue ordinance, the council might take action on the ordinance. City Attorney H. L. Maxfield was not present at the session, but Attorney F. C. Burpee, entering the council chambers at the time the discussion arose, expressed the opinion that as the ordinance was authorized to act as in a regular session.

The principal features of the ordinance are against the crowding of theatres and allow people to stand in the aisles and entrances; it requires each place to have a fireproof room provided for the motion picture machinery, sheathed with galvanized iron and asbestos lined; calls for two aisles in each place, not less than three feet wide and requires each theatre owner to so place the operative machinery that there shall be no danger of fire starting in the room where the picture machines are operated. All exits must be kept unlocked while more than twenty people are in the theatre. The fire chief is authorized to inspect the theatres to see that all provisions of the ordinance are not violated and policemen are given the authority to enter the showhouses at any time to see that the law is being enforced. The penalty provided for violation of the proposed law is a fine not lower than $25, nor more than $100. The ordinance will undoubtedly be signed by Mayor Carlo.

For his services to the City of Janessville as legal counsel in the case of R. T. Humphreys and A. H. Lindquist against the city, the council ordered paid to Attorney F. C. Burpee the sum of $1,350. Mr. Burpee presented to the city fathers an itemized and sworn account of his work in the case in fighting in the circuit court and later when the action was taken to the supreme court of the state. He asked $1,510 for his labor, but City Attorney Maxfield recommended that $1,350 be allowed by the council and the council adopted Mr. Maxfield's suggestion. This relieves the city of all obligations in regard to the case now the contracting firm lost by the decision of the supreme court when appeal was taken.

The principal purpose for which last night's meeting was called was to canvass the returns of the election. The judicial committee, through Alderman Bull, presented the official returns of the balloting and announced the names of the officers-elect of the city for the next two years—aldermen and other municipal officials. The reports of the committee met with unanimous approval.

Alderman Brown of the finance committee presented the bills for the payment of the inspectors and election clerks who worked in the primary and general elections. These were ordered paid, the chairman of the board of inspectors in each ward receiving $8.50; the other two inspectors $5; and clerks, $4 each.

What promised to be a dull session was made lively by the joking among the aldermen and the mayor. Previews to the gathering of the city and in the council chambers there had been considerable merriment over the question as to what the outgoing members of the council would do when they lost their "steady jobs," and this spirit prevailed throughout the session.

CLOSING CONCERT FOR APOLLO CLUB

Russian Singer Is To Be the Leading Artist At the Concert Monday Evening.

The Apollo Club will close its season of musical events with a recital Monday evening, April 10th. This recital will be given by Mr. Albert Horner, the celebrated Russian basso, who has secured such a success in Chicago during the past winter and of whom the well known newspaper critic, Maurice Rosenfeld, says of his recital given in the Illinois Theater, February 27th, "It may be classed as one of the best song recitals we have had this season."

Mr. Charles Larvey will be the accompanist for Mr. Horner and will also play one or two piano numbers. Mr. Larvey, it will be remembered, is the young man who made such a hit as an accompanist for Mme. Fornia at the opening entertainment for the Apollo Club season.

Mr. Larvey is a pianist by nature and education as well, in fact it may be said of him that he is "tuna set to music." The instant he appeared before the Apollo Club audience, they were with him and after Mr. Larvey had finished his work, there was an ardent desire to hear more of him.

The directors of the Apollo Club have decided to adopt an invitation for the closing of the season and give permission to any member to invite a friend to attend this last concert upon payment of the merely nominal sum of twenty-five cents. This is for the purpose of giving those who are non-members an opportunity to hear one of the high class Apollo Club recitals with a view of inducing them to become members for the coming year.

Just prior to the beginning of the concert Monday evening, there will be an election of two new directors to take the place of those whose terms expire this season.

"You oughtn't to kick about that!" thundered the editor of the Howler; "we give you twice as much thrill for your penny as any other paper does!"

Answer Letters Promptly.

To disregard letters which we receive is a source of keen disappointment to those who think enough of us to write us. We should answer them out of courtesy if for no other reason. After we have made the effort for this reason several times the chances are that we will continue the correspondence for the pleasure it gives us, or there is no denying that it can become almost as much of a pleasure to write them as every one owns it is to receive a bright, breezy letter.

Interesting Analysis of Snow.

The London Lancet once made an analysis of London snow on a weekday and on a Sunday. The Sunday snow showed roughly a fifth of the amount of impurities present in the weekday snow. But the most significant difference was that while the weekday snow contained as much as 2 1/2 grains of sulphuric acid in ten pounds the Sunday snow contained practically none.

"No," he was quite suited to his master. But the Bazar says Nardini took a dislike to him for one reason or another.

"Nardini?" queried Amber.

"The genius of the place," Ralikes nodded toward the Raj Mahal, shining like a pearl through the darkness on the hillside over against the Residency. "She's Ralikes's hand queen. At least that's about as near to her status as one can get. She's not actually his queen, but some sort of a hereditary from the Rutton dynasty—I hardly know what or why. Ralikes never married her, but she lives in the Palace, and for several years—ever since she first began to be talked about—she's ruled from behind the scenes with a high hand and an outstretched arm. No the Bazar says."

"They arose and left the table to the servants, the Resident with Amber following Farrell and young Clarkson.

"Old women we are, forever talking scandal," said Ralikes, with a chuckle. "Oh, well! It's shop with us, you know."

"Of course. . . . Then I understand that the tannasha is the reason for the encampment beyond the walls."

"Yes; they've been coming in for a week. By tomorrow night, I dare say, every rajah, prince, thakur, baron, fief, and lord is Rajputana, each with his 'tail,' horse and foot, will be camped down before the walls of Kuttarpur. You've chosen an interesting time for your visit. It'll be a slight worth seeing, when they begin to make a show. My troubles begin with a state banquet tomorrow that I'd give much to miss; however, I'll have Farrell for company."

"I'm glad to be here," said Amber thoughtfully. "Could it be possible that the proposed abdication of Ralikes in favor of his son was merely a cloak to a conspiracy to restore to power the house of Rutton? Or had the tannasha been arranged in order to gather together all the rulers in Rajputana without exciting suspicion, that they might agree upon a concerted plan of mutiny against the Sirkut?"

"The state affair of surpassing importance had been arranged for the last day of grace allotted the Prince of the house of Rutton. What had it to do with the Gateway of Swords, the Voice, the Mind, the Eye, the Body, the Soul?"

"By the way, Mr. Ralikes," said the Virginian suddenly, "what do they call the gate by which entered the city—the southern gate?"

"The Gateway of Swords, I believe," Farrell, on the point of entering the house, overheard and turned. "Is that so? Why, I thought that gateway was in Kathlapur."

"I've heard of a Gateway of Swords in Kathlapur," Ralikes admitted. "Never been there, myself."

"A dead city, Mr. Amber, not far away—originally the capital of Khindawar. It's over there in the hills to the north, somewhere. Old Rutton, founder of the place and dynasty, got tired of the place and caused it to be depopulated, building Kuttarpur in its stead. I believe, to commemorate some victory or other. That sort of thing used to be quite the fashion in India, before we came." Ralikes fell back, giving Amber precedence as they entered the Residency. "By the way, remind me, if you think of it, Colonel Farrell, to get after the telegraph clerk tomorrow. There's a new man in charge—a Bengali babu—and I presume he's about as worthless as the run of his kind."

Amber made a careful note of this information; he was curious about that babu.

In the drawing room Ralikes and Farrell impressed Clarkson for three-handed bridge. Sophia did not care to play and Amber was ignorant of the game—a defect in his social education which he found no cause to regret, since it left him in undisputed attendance upon the girl.

She had seated herself at a warped and discouraged piano, for which Ralikes had already apologized; it was, he said, a legacy from a former Resident. For years its yellow keys had not known a woman's touch, such as that to which they now responded with thin, cracked voices; the girl's fine, slender fingers wrung from them a plaintive, pathetic melody. Amber stood over her with his arms folded on the top of the instrument, comfortably unconscious that his pose was copied from any number of sentimental photographs and "art photographs." His temper was sentimental enough, for that matter; the woman was very sweet and beautiful in his eyes as she sat with her white, round arms flashing over the keyboard, her head bowed and her face a little averted, the long lashes low upon her cheeks and tremulous with a fathomless emotion. It was his thought that his time was momentarily becoming shorter, and that just now, more than ever, she was very distant from his arms, something inaccessible, too rare and delicate and fine for the rude possession of him who sighed for his own unworthiness.

Amber brought both hands down upon the keys, edging a jagged, startled crash from the tortured wires, and swinging round, glanced up at Amber with quiet mirth trembling behind the veil of moisture in her misty eyes.

"India!" she cried, with a broken laugh; "India epitomized: a homeless, exiled woman trying to drag a song of home from the broken heart of a crippled planet! That is an Englishwoman's India! It's our life, ever to strive and struggle and contrive to piece together out of makeshift odds and ends the atmosphere of home! . . . It's suffocating in here, come!" She rose with a quick shrug of impatience, and led the way back to the gardens.

Pensively, the girl trailed her long skirts heedlessly over the dew-drenched grasses, Amber at her side, himself speechless with an intangible, ineluctable, unreasoning sense of expectancy. Never, he told himself, had a lover's hour been more auspiciously timed or staged; and this was his hour, altogether his! . . . If only he might find the words of wooing to which his lips were straitened; he dared not delay; tomorrow it might be too late; in the womb of the morrow a world of chances stirred—contingencies that might in a breath set them a world apart.

They found seats in the shadow of a poplar.

"Are you in the habit of indulging in protracted silences?" she rallied him gently. "Between friends of old standing they're permissible, I believe, but—"

"A day's journey by tonga matures acquaintance wonderfully," he observed absently.

"Indeed?" She laughed.

"At least, I hope so."

"He felt that he must be making progress; thus far he had been no less than an average lover of the stage or fiction. And he wondered: was she laughing at him, softly, there in the shadows?"

"You see," she said, amused at his relapse into reverie, "you're incurable and ungovernable. I'm trying my best to be attractive and interesting, and you won't pay me any attention whatever. There must be something on your mind. Is it this mysterious errand that brings you so unexpectedly to India—to Kuttarpur, Mr. Amber?"

"Yes," he answered truthfully.

"And you won't tell me?"

"I think I must," he said, bending forward.

There sounded a stealthy rustling in the shrubbery. The girl drew away and rose with a startled exclamation.

With a bound, a man in native dress sped from the shadows and paused before them, panting.

Amber jumped up, overturning his chair, and instinctively feeling for the pistol that was with his traveling things, upstair in the Residency.

The native, reassured him with a swift, obsequious gesture, "Jardoni, sahib, and yours, sahib, if I have alarmed you, but I am come on an errand of haste, seeking him who is known as the Sahib David Amber."

"I am he. What do you want with me?"

"It is only this, that I have been commissioned to bear to you, sahib."

The man fumbled hurriedly in his fold of his surcoat, "darling," quick glances of apprehension round the garden. Amber looked him over as closely as he could in the dim light, but found him wholly a stranger; merely a low-caste Hindu, counterpart of a million others to be encountered daily in the highways and bazars of India. The Virginian's rising hope, that he might prove to be Labertouche, faded for want of encouragement; the intruder was of a stature the Englishman could by no means have counterfeited.

"From whom come you?" he demanded in the vernacular.

"Nay, a name that is unspoken karma none, sahib." The native produced a small, thin, flat package and thrust it into Amber's hands. "With permission, I go, sahib; it were unwise to linger."

"There is no answer?"

"None, sahib." The man saluted, and strode away, seeming to melt soundlessly into the foliage.

For a minute Amber remained astare. The girl's voice alone raised him.

"I think you are a very interesting person, Mr. Amber," she said, resuming her chair.

"Well. . . . I begin to think this a most uncommonly interesting country," he laughed uncertainly, turning the package over and over. "Upon my word—I haven't the least notion what this can be!"

"Why not bring it to the light, and find out?"

He hesitated meekly, having been perfectly candid in his assertion that he had no suspicion of what the packet might contain, and a moment later they stood beneath the window of the Residency, from which a broad shaft of light streamed out like vaporized gold.

Amber held the packet to the light; it was oblong, thin, stiff, covered with common paper, glistening with supererogation, and sealed with mud. He tore the covering, withdrew the enclosure, and heard the girl gasp with surprise. For himself, he was transfixed with consternation. His look wavered in dismay between the girl and the photograph in his hand—her photograph, which had been stolen from him aboard the Poonah.

She extended her hand imperiously. "Give that to me, please, Mr. Amber," she insisted. He surrendered it without a word. "Mr. Amber!" she cried in a voice that quivered with wonder and resentment.

He faced her with a hang-dog air, feeling that now indeed had his case been made hopeless by this contrivance. "Confound Labertouche!" he cried in his ungrateful heart. "Confound his meddling mystery-mongering and hokus-pokus!"

"Well!" inquired the girl sharply.

"Yes, Miss Farrell." He could invent nothing else to say.

"You—you are going to explain, I presume."

He shook his head in despair.

"What?"

"I've no explanation whatever to make—that'd be adequate, I mean."

He saw that she was shaken by impatience. "I think," said she evenly— "I think you will find it best to let me judge of that. This is my photograph. How do you come to have it? What right have you to it?"

"I . . . ah . . . ." He stammered and paused, acutely conscious of the voices of the Englishmen, Farrell, Ralikes, and young Clarkson, drifting out through the open window of the drawing room. "If you'll be kind enough to return to my chair," he said, "I'll try to make a satisfactory explanation. I'd rather not be overheard."

The girl doubted, was strongly inclined to refuse him; then, perhaps moved to compassion by his abject attitude, she relented and agreed. "Very well," she said, and retaining the picture moved swiftly before him into the shadowed garden. He lagged after her, inventing a hundred impracticable yarns. She found her chair and sat down with a manner of hauteur moderated by expectancy. He took his place beside her.

"Who sent you this photograph of me?" she began to cross-examine him.

"A friend."

"His name?"

"I'm sorry I can't tell you just now."

"Oh! . . . Why did he send it?"

"Because . . . ." In his desperation it occurred to him to tell the truth—as much of it, at least, as his word to Rutton would permit. "Because I'm his friend. My friend knew I had lost it."

Ellisha's Heavenly Belongings. 2 Kings VI:1-23.

Golden Text—For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. Ps. 91:11.

(1) Verses 1-10—Were wars ever really necessary?

(2) Will wars ever cease, and what are the signs?

(3) How did Ellisha find out what the plans of the King of Syria were?

(4) What reason is there, if any, to believe that some men today, are able to tell what is in the minds of others?

(5) Is mind reading any more wonderful than other phenomena with which we are familiar, for example wireless telegraphy?

(6) Will there ever be any regrettable events in the life of any man who carefully obeys the voice of God in his soul?

(7) Verse 11—If a man's plans are repeatedly unsuccessful is that a sure sign, or not, that they are not of God? Why?

(8) Verse 12—Was Ellisha's ability to tell what the King of Syria was saying, when at a great distance from him, natural or supernatural?

(9) Are clairvoyants, clairaudients, and others who claim similar powers noted for their spirituality?

(10) Verses 12-14—Why did Ellisha allow himself to be shut up in Dothan if he knew all the King of Syria was doing?

(11) What reason, if any, is there to believe that God sometimes plans to get his children into a tight, or dangerous place?

(12) Which good man at the end of life is the better off, the one who has had a constant fight with opposing forces all through life, or the one who has had an easy time, and why? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(13) Verse 15—Was the fear displayed by Ellisha's servants, natural and free from all blame? Why?

(14) Why, or why not, should a Christian be blamed if his heart trembles in the presence of grave difficulties?

(15) Verse 16—Would any man ever fear if he knew the full mind of God, and was his true follower?

(16) Verse 17—Where is the spirit world?

(17) What reason is there for the belief that we are surrounded by spiritual intelligences?

(18) Is there any reason to think that our spiritual visions can be cultivated to see, and our ears to hear, the spirits by whom we are encompassed?

(19) Verse 18—Did God smite the entire army with blindness or only the officers?

(20) Verse 19—Did Ellisha lie to the Syrians?

(21) What is a lie?

(22) Was Ellisha justified in deceiving the Syrians?

(23) Verses 20-23—When we have our enemy in our power should we do to him as he had tried to do to us?

Curing by Sympathetic Magic.

"A friend of mine came across a native sitting in the veranda of a house from which groans proceeded," Mr. E. Thurston stated at the British Royal Society of Arts in a lecture on the natives of southern India. "He learned that the man's wife was sitting on a swing studded with sharp nails in order to cure him by sympathetic magic of some trifling ailment."

Case of Unselfish Crusaders.

We (Irish) have got the name of being an adventurous people. You will hear the Irish accent in every continent. There is no speech or language whose our voice is not heard. We have helped to civilize every country except our own.—Dublin Irish Home.

Cynical.

"Blighins must be very much in love with his wife to buy her so much jewelry." "Perhaps," answered Miss Cayenne, "although it is sometimes difficult to determine whether expensive gifts are inspired by affection or a bad conscience."

Ahead of Optimist.

The man who accepts calamity when it hits him as so much necessary medicine administered for his own good, and makes no ugly face when swallowing defeat, even if he admits it, is not to be classed as a pessimist. Such a man is far ahead of the optimist who insists he never had anything handed him and fools himself, as he often does others.
